extraordinary solutions for

Medical Hair Loss

We understand that maintaining a normal appearance when affected by medical conditions ~ such as chemotherapy, alopecia, burn, trauma, trichotillomania and thyroid disorders ~ has a profound effect on ones' emotional healing and self-confidence.

Medical hair loss and image recovery require special design considerations that address the sensitive nature in which the scalp and hair are affected by medical treatment, stress and other hair loss conditions.

Appearance (exterior). Whether you are duplicating your pre-hair loss appearance or embracing a new hairstyle, your hair should feel authentic and natural. Color rendering, shaping, texture, wave, movement, length and density are equal components in customizing a hair enhancement that looks and feels real to you.

Base (interior). Equally important as your outward appearance is what lies beneath. Hair and scalp affected by medical conditions are typically more sensitive, thus require more care when selecting base materials, construction and cap customization. Bases should be lightweight, well-fitted and non-invasive.
